NEW BLOG REVEALS ORGANIZING SECRETS

Local Professional Organizers Share their Tips on the New NAPO-GPC Blog

How do I clean out my garage? How do I find more time? Where are my keys?!? If you need expert organizing advice, look no further than the brand new blog from the National Association of Professional Organizers – Greater Philadelphia Chapter (NAPO-GPC).

The blog, found at www.napo-gpc.org/blog, was launched in June 2011 to help the public tackle their clutter woes. The blog includes posts from many of NAPO-GPC's 80 member Professional Organizers. Professional Organizers assist businesses and individuals with paperwork, clutter, time management, downsizing and more. You can find a Professional Organizer to suit your needs by using the online "Find An Organizer" search tool on the chapter's website at www.napo-gpc.org.

NAPO-GPC is a nonprofit member organization whose missions are to educate members, to promote the highest standards of ethics and professional competence, and to raise public awareness regarding the benefits of organizing. The chapter hosts monthly meetings at the Tredyffrin Library. For more information about becoming a Professional Organizer, visit www.napo-gpc.org and click on "Join."
